

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of NASHVILLE
WEDDING POLICY

We are happy that you have decided to have your Christian wedding at First Presbyterian Church. The Session has established certain policies, which will be helpful in planning your wedding. Any exceptions to the policy must be approved by the entire pastoral staff.

FACILITIES

The facilities belonging to the congregation are available upon request only to church members, the children of church members, and current church staff. Both the church sanctuary and Stanford Chapel are available for weddings. The sanctuary seats approximately 800 people, the chapel seats approximately 100 people. The Cheek House (100 maximum capacity), and Courtenay Hall (350 maximum capacity) are available for receptions.

SCHEDULING

The scheduling of all weddings at First Presbyterian Church is done by first completing an online Wedding Request. Completing a Wedding Request will reserve a tentative date for a wedding service on the church calendar. The date will only be confirmed after one of the pastors has met with you, approved the wedding, and agreed to officiate at the wedding.

After the approval of your application and the initial meeting with the officiating pastor, you will receive a letter from the church confirming your wedding; however, the wedding date will not be finalized until your wedding fee is received by the church office.

Weddings may not be scheduled to take place on the following significant days in the life of the church: Sundays, Holy Week, Kirkin' Festival weekend, First Festival weekend, Fall Festival weekend, Thanksgiving, Christmas Festival weekend, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve, and New Year's Day.

Please inform the church of any changes in date or time for the rehearsal or wedding as soon as possible.

PASTORS

Only an ordained pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Nashville may officiate at weddings in our facilities. If you so wish, the officiating pastor may extend an invitation to a pastor from another church to participate in the wedding service. Participation by an assisting pastor will be determined by the pastor at First Presbyterian Church officiating at the service, and shall be limited to a prayer and/or participation in the exchange of vows.

Every effort will be made to provide the requested pastor to officiate. Occasionally, because of the many responsibilities of church pastors, the pastor you requested may not be able to officiate at the time of your wedding. Be assured, however, that another FPC pastor will be available to officiate at your wedding. The final decision on this will rest with the pastoral staff of our church.

PREMARITAL COUNSELING

All persons marrying at First Presbyterian Church are required to attend premarital counseling. It is the responsibility of the bride and groom to contact the officiating pastor to make arrangements for premarital counseling several months prior to the wedding.

WEDDING COORDINATOR

The Wedding Coordinator will review the church's policies and will assist you with your wedding plans. The coordinator will be present at the rehearsal and ceremony to ensure that all details go smoothly. Outside wedding planners may assist the church wedding coordinator at the service and rehearsal, but must be under the direction of the church wedding coordinator and must abide by church policies.

ORDER FOR THE SERVICE OF MARRIAGE

The wedding ceremony shall be planned with the designated pastor under guidelines prescribed by the Book of Order (W-4.9000) and the Session. The wedding is a corporate worship service of God. In the Presbyterian Church, it indicates what we believe about God and marriage. Since a marriage ceremony is a worship service, the order shall include affirmation of Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and an affirmation of commitment by both bride and groom to each other. The ceremony may include affirmation of families, particular vows along with the exchange of rings, prayer and the sealing of the commitment as the pastor deems appropriate in planning the service with the couple.

A typical order for a service of marriage may be the following: The entrance of the family, pastor, groom, groomsmen and bridesmaids into the sanctuary, the processional of the bride, greeting and call to worship by the pastor, a hymn, the meaning of Christian marriage, prayer, vows, exchange of rings, dedicatory prayer, declaration of marriage, exchange of a kiss, benediction, recessional. The pastor has various resources and advice that will help a couple plan a joyfully unique and Christ-centered service for their marriage. All suggestions, changes and instructions in this service must be approved by the officiating pastor.

If the serving of communion is requested, it must be approved by the officiating pastor, authorized by the church Session (Book of Order, W-2.4012), and "the invitation to the Lord's Supper is extended to all who have been baptized [bridal party and congregation]" (Book of Order, W-2.4011). Communion during a marriage service is served by intinction.

MUSIC

It is the policy of the Session of First Presbyterian Church to offer unto God only music of the highest quality in the wedding ceremony, as is the case with any service of the church. It is important that the music conform to the Christian ideals of marriage. Secular music, no matter how beautiful or filled with the sentiments of love, is not appropriate for a worship service.

The bride and groom are expected to arrange an appointment with the Wedding Music Coordinator (one of the church's staff organists) for the purpose of planning music for the service. The Wedding Music Coordinator will direct all musical elements of the wedding service, including assisting the bride in the selection of music, and directing other instrumentals and vocalists. One of First Presbyterian Church's organists plays for all weddings celebrated in our church facilities. If the bride desires to have vocalists or instrumentalists of her own choosing, they must be approved in advance by the Wedding Music Coordinator.

DECORATING

First Presbyterian Church has been blessed with a beautiful sanctuary and chapel. Decorations should be restrained and tasteful, respecting the simple existing architectural beauty of the worship spaces. The dossal cloth and paraments used during the wedding ceremony are white.

The following guidelines must be followed for decorating:

- Rearranging of furniture in the church or Cheek House is not permitted.
- Candelabras (not in excess of four candelabras) may be used in the chapel and sanctuary, provided proper precautions are taken to protect the floors and furniture. The church has one pair of brass candelabra that may be used. If you would like to use the church's candelabra, please make arrangements with the church's Wedding Coordinator. Candle decorations are not to be used in the narthex.
- Only drip-less pillar candles that are no larger than 3-inches in diameter are allowed for use in the sanctuary windows. Drip trays must be under the candles, and the entire candle must be covered by a hurricane glass cover.
- No tacks, nails, screws, adhesives or tape, are to be used in the church. Decorations must be arranged so that there is no necessity to fasten them to the building or furniture.
- Columns and doorways in the sanctuary must be kept free of decorations.
- When potted plants or greens are used, floors and furniture must be protected from stain or drippings.
- Aisle runners are not permitted.

FLORAL DECORATIONS

Wedding floral arrangements in the chancel may be one of the following:

- 1) One arrangement on the flower table at the back of the chancel.
- 2) Two arrangements placed on the church pedestals that are on both sides of the chancel at the top of the chancel steps.

Additional floral decorating rules:

- Floral decorations may be placed on the tables in the narthex.
- Small bouquets may be attached to the ends of pews with ribbons.
- Only artificial flower petals may be dropped by flower girls.
- Floral arrangements in the sanctuary windows are allowed only if placed in approved drip trays.
- Flower arrangements on the chancel railings are not permitted.

It is the responsibility of the florist (or wedding party) to remove all flowers and decorations from the church immediately after the wedding ceremony. However, wedding floral arrangements in the sanctuary may be left for the Sunday worship service, if previously approved.

Throughout the year, the Flower Committee provides special arrangements that are appropriate for the worship service, and wedding flowers cannot be left for Sunday worship on the following Sundays: Scout Sunday, Youth Sunday, Confirmation Sunday, World Communion Sunday, Oak Hill School Sunday, Reformation Sunday.

During the Advent/Christmas season, the Flower Committee provides seasonal arrangements to decorate the sanctuary. The arrangements are not to be removed, moved or changed. If additional wedding flowers are desired, the arrangement must be arranged by the Flower Committee.

A photographer may take pictures from the balcony of the sanctuary during the service; however, there must be no noise or flash. Photos may not be taken from the balcony while the organist or musicians are playing. Before taking photos of musicians, permission from the musicians must be obtained.

A photographer may take pictures, without any noise or flash, of the bride and groom leaving the sanctuary. The photographer must not enter the sanctuary and may only take photos through the open center narthex doors.

If photos are taken after the ceremony, they must be completed within 30 minutes of the conclusion of the ceremony.

Photographers must wear appropriate dress.

VIDEOS

Video cameras may be used discretely to record the service only if (1) the equipment is stationary and placed in the balcony, (2) the equipment does not obstruct the view of worshippers, and (3) no lights are used. An out-of-sight, remote-controlled video camera may be placed in the chancel.

Videographers must wear appropriate dress.

WEDDING PROGRAMS

Wedding programs are not provided by the church. If you will be providing wedding programs, please consult with the Wedding Music Coordinator about the order of service for the programs. Please provide a copy of the wedding program to the Wedding Coordinator before the wedding rehearsal.
